

Waldemar Szulc: Characteristics of Railway Research Institute's Test Track Centre and Types of Performed Rolling Stock Researches

In the article there were presented construction and specification of research infrastructure of the Railway Research Institute's Test Track Centre in Żmigród. There were described rolling stock research including international projects performed on the Test Track.

Keywords: research infrastructure, rolling stock